An item of army news which is of interest locally is the detail of Captain Wm. Kelly, jr., to go with General Taft, secretary of war, on his tour of the Philippines the coming summer. Capt. Kelly, who is now on duty as instructor at West Point Military academy, is a Brownsville boy, and his many friends in his old home have watched with much interest his progress in the army.

An important visitor who is expected to arrive in Brownsville very shortly—possibly on Saturday—is no less a personage than Baron Des Planches, the Italian ambassador to the United States, who is touring Texas with a view of selecting places to recommend to his government for the location of Italian immigrants to this country. The distinguished gentleman is accompanied by several other persons and travels in his private car. It is understood that he will be accompanied by a number of prominent railroad officials also in private coaches, all coming by special train.

As a demonstration of what this country can do in the way of Irish potatoes, a lot of very fine tubers was presented to THE HERALD this morning by Louis Kowalski. These came from Frank Rabb's farm at San Tomas plantation eight miles below town. Messrs. Kowalski and Rabb planted three sacks of potatoes the latter part of last December on a small tract of land at San Tomas, and have just harvested the crop, making a very fair yield of an excellent quality.

An arrival in Brownsville Wednesday evening was Mrs. S. W. Lee Kennedy of Houston, who is traveling in the interest of the Old Ladies' Home which is to be established in Texas. The projected institution is one which should command the interest and support of all Texans. A charter has been secured by Mrs. Kennedy and several associates for this institution and she has obtained a certificate from County Clerk J. Webb to the effect that the document which she carries is valid. It is the desire of the projectors to build the Home on the San Jacinto battlefield and the legislature has been petitioned for permission to do so. Mrs. Kennedy is soliciting subscriptions for the Home. She is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Petty at their home on Levee street.

THE BULLS ARRIVE

Twelve Ferocious Animals from Guanajuato for the Matamoros Bull Fights.

The bulls which were engaged for the bull fights to be held in Matamoros next week arrived yesterday afternoon, and have been placed in the pasture of G. Follain near the city, where they will be kept until the fights come off. There are twelve of them, all said to be fine specimens of fighting animals. As previously reported, these bulls come from the noted Guanajuato stock near San Louis Potosi.

All preparations are about completed for the great series of bull fights. The ring has been completed and properly equipped. It is one of the finest in the republic, being fourth in size and has a seating capacity of five thousand.

The cuadrilla of bull fighters that will conduct these fights has been in Matamoros for some time.

The Card Club.

The last meeting of the Ladies' Card Club for this season, and one of the most enjoyable, was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Captain and Mrs. Wm. Kelly, Miss Geraldine Kelly being the hostess. Despite the very warm weather, there was a good attendance, and all entered into the contest at Progressive High Five with their usual interest. The club members present were Mesdames Leckie, Ashheim, Killough, Creager and Wheeler, Misses Bollack, Josephine Hooks, Beatrice Hooks, Anna Kelly and Geraldine Kelly. The guests of the occasion were Mrs. Sprague of Hidalgo county, Miss Slevin of Houston, Miss Levy of California and Miss Anna Kennedy.

The first prize, a dainty silk ribbon tape case, was won by Mrs. Creager; the second, a very pretty drawn work collar and lace pin, by Mrs. Leckie. Mrs. Sprague was the fortunate winner of the guest's prize, a lovely silk gauze fan. All of the others present cut for the consolation prize, Miss Kennedy being the lucky one. The prize was quite unique and admired by all, being the most natural little yellow duckling on a nest of flowers, a fine example of the taxidermist's art, which was quite appropriate to the Easter season.

Refreshments consisted of tempting fruit salad with whipped cream and cake.

It was decided, on account of the early warm weather, to discontinue the meetings until October.
